

what Wordsworth is refering to when he talks about the disintergrating state of man in modern society and its evils. Although it is despairing it gives us a basis of comparison by which we can see why Wordsworth is so enraptured with being in unity with nature in his other poems.

~~_____~~
~~_____~~
~~_____~~
~~_____~~
~~_____~~