

Keep the rabble from ever seeing the type of life

In reality which assimilates the tenth part of The glory that is my life. Please, do not crowd against us.

Mankind-"No, I do not believe this is true. As I said
Before, I believe every one of my people, throughout

The whole world no matter what race, nationality,
Position can be educated if the right means are assumed.

It will come to pass that all men will be equal
Not only in the way they were created, and the way they were Meant to be, but in education and lifestyle.

This is my first goal in my shining future. This is

The one thing that must come to be, this is
Also, as you know, the oldest Ideal Mankind has ever held,

And it must come about. Leave me now."

Conscience-"You have just sent a very important entity away.
They have accomplished most, and thought out most of the Things you have done in your life. They have erected

Your pyramids, they explored your lands, they helped find

Some of sciences secrets, and they built your teeming
Cities and systems that support your better countries."

Mankind-" It is odd, Conscience, that you bring this up.
I have realized this. I know that all the best thoughts

Have sprung from them. I know that all my best
Material accomplishments have sprung from them, but a time

Has come that things be modified. They are possibly Museum pieces for us to look at, but the extents of the

Holdings of some of my leading people must come down.

Conscience-"Yes, I see. I believe it is true. I also

Believe that some of your systems are starting to look dimmer.

That your system is starting to develop a new sort
