

me and you cry for past opportunities of real love

Feb 4 - Woke up with a head full of snot and a sore throat.
Has to be one of the nastiest colds of my life. They gave me a cold pill last night that nearly made me pass out when I got to bed. I guess I get another today as it is a 12 hour pill. Also must see the doctor.

Tried to figure out exactly what my benefits and money situation was, but the pamphlets I have were a bit vague.

I am feeling better coldwise by now 3 hours after I arose so the rest of the day should be all right although I am rather tired or wired down. My condition is the most important thing on my mind

Somebody played fool the artist kid on me and stole my poinsetta experiment and hid the editorial page, I thought it was funny that this should happen to me. I 'spose I was supposed to get bummed out, but I just can't care too much, my steel tempered heart and all,

Poor Nature Poem

I hear crows cawing nature's still preserving our need of life and animal helpmates reassure us the planet still supports it
