Again recaptured
love would be a color
flash in blackest Hades
depth and dissolve instantaneous
at the touch of us,
we must, it is over, and
goodbye to our love

Feb 5 - I feel somewhat better today as far as my cold goes. I'm still stuffy, but the stuff is loose and maybe gym would work it out, but I'll try today if it makes it worse I'll forget it for tomorrow.

Had a boxing match and also it got cancelled, but I'm still ready for it.

I saw two blackbirds fly by the barred veranda this morning right after I got dressed and helped behold again the true beauty of natural animals in motion.

I believe I have to watch out for my fight head or it may materialize into action with somebody who is not fooling.

Barney made ad lescence, dany horny dog was so glad to see me yesterday. We're in love, can't wait to walk that little fellow again, he is gaining his maturity.

I finally got clarinet thrills today as I did 45 minutes on one today, it was a nice practice and I found it hard to read songs I didn't know as usual, but old time honk squeels came out just fine.
