

Mar 8 - Last day of my week today, should go well. R got kicked out of MT for fucking around like a little kid. Met a really find looking chick named G. who is pretty spaced out , could really dig being her friend. Could have went to this one B's house and toked up, but I figured I needed help here more than help there, besides don't know what would happen if I fucked off like that.

Mar 9 - Went to school and got a 33 credit sentence which will be another year, what a bitch. Worked at Clark.

Mar 10- I am working today and will be full time by next week so I'll be into a little cash at least. Probably will go out tonight, don't know wher though

Mar 11 -Looks like the best of the year out there, real warm, should be just fine if it don't rain. Was nice first half of the day then it got cold, you could read that in the paper, however as it relates to me I like it fine.

Mar 12 - Job hunting today.

Mar 13 - Enjoyed the new job immensely, was fairly easy and the duties were mostly pretty easy and interesting for me.

On seeing death

Imminent flash
of childhood forgotten
moment caught
in transparent light
of recognition, for
no reason new in
my car the elastic
pavement pulling me.
