

All asked how it started and we Opened a door unmasked into a
Rational world as beautiful as
Horror and as thrilling as peace.

The simplest things are always
The most abstract, and the uninvited
Immersion of the world into rationality
Presented the highest picture, the Abstractest problem foremost into
The new commonality of mind.

It was a mute picture resembling
Total blankness of spirit in a man
As defined in his animal sensate
State. Building a better atom model
Alone became a new religion, a new Project, a new purpose of the world.

And all agreed. Immediately the Wayd and means of human life had
A new self-aggrandizing end.
Business and government agreed
Simultaneously after the first day
That the model must be built, and no
Single man had any other purpose
Other than knowing the atomic model.
It was a weird and lovable religion
