So it must follow the energy
Along the synapses of the brain is in A less malign version an atomic Explosion, and follow therefore that
The mechanic of the nuclear reaction
Turning in itself again in it's Destructive mechanism creates a mental Suicide in a reflexive process only in External means; and if matter, that is Atoms, can be so destroyed that
Through willfull cogitation the mind
Of man being made of matter
That is solely ordered energy, should Be able to wipe a slate clean and Recreate it's environment as it sees
Fit consulting the chimeric infinitude
Of possibility. Reorder, that is create Mechanically, all energy as modern Scientific man has into productive as well as harmful shapes and forms. And it Follows that what chimeric twists
Outside of sensual demonstrable physics
He can create in his imagination should Be creatable reality as well. Gravity can Be conquered through atomic transformation
In an invisible twist man has yet
