

And caught the feel of the movie.
As an adolescent dreaming to the
Chant of the radio, he found tough,
He found intellect, he found liberal,
He found drug cult, he found Jesus,
He found the old man, each find his new reality.

In between his finds he found
The movie, at different ages and with
A growing mind luckily uncaught by the Finds, in between he found the Movie, as if looking through his Forehead at all brick walls in an Alley he found a spark of the Movie and felt his mentors had
Let him down .

The dream of the dusty cowboys
Lived in him through his discoveries
And carried him into the movies, but
Any of his discoveries would have Bought him reality and the Security, the necessary security.
The dusty cowboys told him nobody
Could own the town and the people
Could not be tyrannized, but a
Century put him aspace from
Those realities, he was the only cowboy.
