

The chicken came before the egg.
If I am depressed I must go shopping.
There is no job worth doing well.
I will not tell my best friends the truth if it will hurt them.
Loud public places scare me.
I can not go out alone.
My friends know when to avoid me.
It is to do two things at once.
I want to build a boat and sail around the world.
I will never learn anything new.
A good job is all one can ask for.
Money is all that matters.
The environment is more important than my family.
It is not my fate to be a leader.
People who have money scare me.
People say I have a way of knowing when they lie to me.
There is no hope of common people becoming great.
We should just accept things as they are.
I would rather be a minister than a judge.
People who talk behind my back have poor sex lives.
I want to be recognized when I go to large parties.
Nuclear physics is not as important as sculpture.
Real art enhances life.
Nothing one can say is bigger than reality.
Evolution has nothing to do with me.
When I don't care anymore I get dressed up and go to crowded places.
